It is reported that on some spots points the weeds reach out over the prevalent this year.

Stevens Students Meet At Cascade

Third Annual Reunion Of Thaddeus Stevens School
Is A Success Friday

Perfect weather and an ideal gathering place, plus plenty of that old school spirit helped make the third annual Thaddeus Stevens school reunion the biggest and the most successful one of them all, as well over six hundred former teachers and students and their families, coming from as far east as Washington, D. C., and as far west as Detroit, Mich., and Phoenix, Ariz., as well as from all points in the tri-state area, convened in the grove at Cascade Park, Thursday afternoon.

Probably the happiest person at the reunion was Miss Mary Moore-

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Amerfor three decades in the tradition of a dollar down and a dollar a week, was asked in effect today by the federal government to curtail installment buying as a contribution to the defense aid-to-Britain pro-

Regulation increasing down pay-which credit purchases must be paid for on 24 durable consumer goods items were made public by the federal reserve board following a White House executive order.

Effective September 1, the regution by controlling purchasing power at a time when productive facilities of industry must be diverted to the manufacture of de-

Further, the reserve board ex-

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 23.—In the face of a strike vote which threatens a 10-county power shutdown next Thursday midnight, the Pennsylvania-Edison company today denied that it has "unlawfully or otherwise refused to bargain collectively with the C. I. O."

In the utility's first statement on the controversy, E. H. Werner, president, replied to a charge by Local 180 of the Utility Workers Organizing committee that the firm had denied it recognition after checking its membership lists show-workers are involved.

The union last night voted to

Former Circuit Judge

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—J.
Warren Davis, retired U. S. circuit court judge and Morgan S. Kaufman, Scranton attorney today faced a third trial on charges of conspiracy to "sell justice" in the bankruptcy appeals of William Fox, one-time motion picture producer.

Plans to try the two defendants again—possibly in mid-October—were announced by federal prosecutor Walter H. Gahagan, Jr., immediately after their second district court appearance ended in a hung jury.

Second Stalemate
It was the second such stalemate in the case in four months, the first Davis-Kaufman trial having ended last May when a jury reached a 6-6 deadlock and was dismissed. The nine men and three women consid-were unable to agree after 12 hours deliberation and likewise were discharged. On all four ballots their vote stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

General Martin Praises 28th As Grand Division

(International News Service)
INDIANAPOLIS, Pa., Aug. 23.—
Major General Edward Martin, commander of the 28th Division, today told his troops their work far outstrips the training efforts of the "Iron Division" during the World War.

"We are mighty proud of the glorious record of the Iron Division in France," he said. "However, the record shows that we are performing better in training camp today than we did in 1917. The division is in splendid condition and I am expecting fine results in Virginia."

The entire 28th is scheduled to begin its long trek from Indianapolis Gap to the southern training site early Monday morning. Moving out in three long columns, they will remain at the Virginia base until September 13.

"In America things have become so easy that we have become selfish and soft," General Martin continued. "As soldiers let us tell the folks back home of the seriousness of the situation. If we train properly we will not be forced to fire a gun."

Production Lags Sen. Byrd Insists In Answering FDR

Charges Plane Output Figures Include Small Combat Training Planes

GERMANS OUTSTRIP U. S. IN PLANE OUTPUT

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Sen.
Byrd (D) Va., stood firm today behind his charges that America's defense production "has lagged dangerously" despite a statement by President Roosevelt from Hyde Park that "somebody told Senator Byrd down the river on the figures in all categories but planes."

Byrd countered by saying that "wisecracking has its place, but President Roosevelt, by his statement, emphasizes the gravity of our national situation."

"In sustaining my statements in the senate as to the production of combat planes, the president, in fact, admitted justification for the most serious of my criticism of the slow production of military equipment," Byrd declared.

700 in July
The senator recalled that he had charged the United States produced only 700 combat planes in July, while less than 300 were bombers, mostly of the light type, and that only 60 four-motored bombers were turned out.

"The administration has been issuing gross figures for plane production," Byrd continued, "lumping training and combat planes. Training planes can be built quickly in mass production, and until my speech in the Senate, no breakdown had been published showing that production of combat planes was so inadequate and that production for July was only 200 more combat planes than in January, and that July production was less than June production."

Byrd added that the United States is producing only one-third as many combat planes per month as Germany.

Mayor Lamberton Of Philadelphia Called By Death

Public Funeral Services Will Be Held On Monday Evening

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—Public funeral services today were set for Monday evening for Mayor Robert E. Lamberton who died suddenly at his summer home in Longport, N.
J., a suburb of Atlantic City.

Bernard Samuel, president of city council, automatically succeeded Lamberton—the second chief executive of this city to die in office in succession—and was scheduled to be sworn in today. He will serve until a new mayor is elected at the November 4 election.

Lamberton, 54, a Republican, had been ill several weeks of Parkinson's disease, but apparently had been on the road to recovery and was expected to return to his duties in Philadelphia shortly. Only recently he had vigorously denied reports that he intended to resign because of his health.

Lamberton's predecessor, Mayor S.
Davis Wilson, died Aug. 18, 1939, after being away from his office for several months because of illness.

Pennsylvania Oil Price Cut Ordered

Price Administrator Henderson Puts Ceiling On Pennsylvania Crude

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Federal Price Administrator Leon Henderson today fixed ceiling prices for high grade "Pennsylvania crude" oil, ordering a cut of approximately 25 cents a barrel.

Production of Pennsylvania crude oil, which is needed for high grade lubricants for defense work, approximates 76,000 barrels a day, or about 2 per cent of the total daily output in the United States. The description "Pennsylvania grade crude oil" applies to its high grade special qualities it being produced in Pennsylvania, New York, southeastern Ohio and northern West Virginia.

Henderson ordered a ceiling price of $2.75 a barrel for Bradford crude, $2.40 a barrel for southwest Pennsylvania crude, $2.34 a barrel for Eureka crude, and $2.30 a barrel for southeastern Ohio crude. Top prices for the various qualities between Oil City and Titusville, Pa., were fixed at from $2.63 to $2.69 a barrel.

Henderson described the recent price rises in the product as "inflationary" and said they could not be justified.

I have the last thrill of seeing long work I fear. I laid the golf clubs

$1,000,000 Fire Damage In Philadelphia

Fire Originated In Lumber Yard

Defense Industries Damaged, Twelve Dwellings Set On Fire, Residents Flee

FIRE IN CONTROL AFTER HARD WORK

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—A five-acre fire swept through two square blocks of Philadelphia early today causing an estimated $1,000,000 damage to industrial plants engaged in defense work and driving several hundred persons from their homes.

Eighteen firemen were injured in battling the blaze.

In Lumber Yard

The fire broke out in the Joseph H. Sykes Lumber Co., located at 19th and Cambria streets and spread rapidly to nearby buildings after causing an estimated $100,000 damage to the lumber yard.

The area swept by the fire was from Cambria to Indiana avenue and from 18th to 20th streets.

The fire spread to the Counties Construction Co., where about $100,000 in motor trucks and equipment went up in flames. Several hundred thousand dollars damage was caused at the warehouse of the King Bedding Co., to which the fire next spread.

Other industrial plants to be damaged were the C. C. Coolbaugh and Sons Lumber Mill and Construction Company; the Robinson Clay Products Co.; and the H. Belfield Co., manufacturers of valves under defense contracts.

Twelve Homes

A dozen private dwellings were set afire. Many residents left their homes and piled their possessions saved from the buildings on the street.

Several hundred policemen and all available fire equipment in the northern end of Philadelphia were rushed to the scene and brought the blaze under control.

ish-American War and the World War and presently county controller of Allegheny county.

"This will be the first maneuvers of any kind in which Company B has engaged," said Major Weber. "Company B is one of the top flight companies in the regiment and has already attracted the favorable attention of regimental officers. We expect to go into camp sometime early on Saturday afternoon August 30. From then until Monday afternoon September 1 at four o'clock Camp Woodside will be an army camp in miniature.

"Guard posts will be established, drilling will take place, the men will live in the Boy Scout cabins and so far as possible the camp will be a replica of the regular army camps scattered across the country."

Visitors Welcome

"Visitors will be welcome on Sunday and Monday afternoon. We are proud of Company B and we want the people of Lawrence, Beaver Butler and Mercer counties to see for themselves the type of men we have. The company serves these four regiments, the men drill every week without a dime's compensation and they are doing a piece of defense preparedness that the staff officers know is being well done.

Preparations for the encampment are going forward already. The regimental officers, who will come from all parts of the state and an officers school will be held.

In the matter of foodstuffs for the camp, already some offers have come to Major Weber of assistance. While there is a little money on hand to pay necessary expenses, the camp will need a lot of such staples as bread, milk, butter, eggs, meats, pies and the like. There will be no solicitation on a general scale for these things but any offer of assistance either in money or foodstuffs will be welcomed. Captain Lester W. McClelland who is the assistant juvenile and parole officer of the county will receive any contributions that are made.

DAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENT

Meanwhile, the situation in Iran continued to grow more tense. Ankara heard a report that the British government had agreed to the expulsion of a small number of Germans from Iran each month rather than a wholesale evacuation at once.

Rumors spread throughout London but official circles had nothing to say, except to deny flatly that General Sir Archibald Wavell already had moved into Iran at the head of his Indian troops.

The Vichy government of Marshal Henri Philippe Petain promised quick action against "communists and anarchists," and set up special tribunals to try alleged revolutionaries. These courts have the power to levy the death sentence, without appeal.

Walls in Paris bore ominous notices posted there by German authorities. They read:

"A number of the German army has been murdered in Paris. From now on, all Frenchmen under arrest are to be considered as hostages. If any new criminal attempts are made, a number of hostages, proportionate to the gravity of the offenses, will be shot."

According to best information, the slain officer was stabbed at the entrance to the Barbès station of the Paris subway. He was said to have been either a major or colonel.

Brown had been on the police force 15 years. He was described by his wife as "the honestest man that ever lived." He was the father of three children, Pauline, 22, Freddie, 20, and Jackie, 6.

Son Freddie said his dad was a "perfect shot."

DOLLAR DOWN PLAN TO BE RESTRICTED

needed machines raw materials and labor for use in the defense program.

According to the regulation, after September 1, credit purchases must be paid up in eighteen months for all articles listed, including automobiles, radios, refrigerators, home furnishings and other items. Installment loans of $1,000 or less made by individuals from banks or personal finance companies must also be paid up in eighteen months the board ruled.

A statement released simultaneously with the regulation stressed that the list made public was not final and that other items could be added from time to time and the down payment and length of credit changed, if necessary.

The announcement implied that neither the defense savings program nor the office of price administration and civilian supply, headed by Leon Henderson, has so far achieved the desired goal of checking price rises and warding off the inflation threat.

One Third Down

Autos, which heretofore could be bought for as little as 25 per cent down, and the balance in two and sometimes three years, must now be paid for one-third down and the balance in eighteen months. This rule also applies to motorcycles, outboards and other power driven boats, and airplanes.

Pianos, which ordinarily could be bought as long as five years to pay, must now be paid for in eighteen months, with 10 per cent down.

Other items, minimum down payments and maximum security covered by the federal reserve board regulation follow:

One-fifth of the sales value is required as a down payment on mechanical refrigerators, washing machines, ironers for household use, vacuum cleaners, cooking stoves, heating stoves, electric dish washers, room-unit air conditioners, sewing machines, radios, phonographs, and musical instruments composed principally of metals.

Other Items

Items requiring a 15 per cent down payment include household furnishings, water heaters, water pumps, plumbing and sanitary fixtures, home air conditioning system, and attic ventilating stands.

Items requiring a 10 per cent down payment include pianos and household electric organs and new household furniture, including ice refrigerators, bed springs and mattresses.

No limitations will be placed upon repairs or improvements to urban, suburban or rural real estate, but this too must be paid up in eighteen months, if arranged for on credit, the reserve board decreed.

CALL OUT 160,000 IF CITY ATTEMPTS TO OPERATE CARS

general public rapidly accustomed itself to getting along without street cars and buses.

After a new peace proposal presented by Jeffries was rejected by A. F. of L. leader early today, negotiators threw up their hands in apparent disgust and terminated discussions at 2 a. m.

In the light of this new rejection, there were many who thought the city would attempt to operate the municipally owned system next week under police protection. It was recalled that the C. I. O. had offered men to operate the cars and buses.

Jurisdictional Fight

The strike occurred following a long standing jurisdictional dispute between Division 26 of the A. F. of L. Street Car Men's Union and a C. I. O. local which has been attempting to gain some rights within the D. S. R. setup.

Mayor Jeffries latest proposal appeared satisfactory to A. F. of L. men with the exception of one point which led to rejection. The mayor proposed an election in the operating division within one week to determine whether the A. F. of L. or the C. I. O. had a majority of the employees. If the C. I. O. won, that union would be given the bargaining rights held by the A. F. of L. for 40 years.

FDR DUKE OF KENT TO CONFER TODAY

The President's conference at sea with Churchill and his continuing conversations at Washington with highest ranking representatives of the British empire, it appeared likely to become another development advancing the mutual understanding of Britain and the United States in their determination to resist the march of the Axis powers.

The duke's visit here will be a prelude to an extensive schedule for the remainder of the week, during which he will visit Washington and Norfolk, Va., where he will look over the drydocks where war damaged British naval vessels are undergoing repairs.

Special Pilot

On arrival at LaGuardia field, his special transport plane will be piloted by Wing Commander Sir Louis Greig who has been at the controls of the plane during the duke's inspection swing through Canadian defense centers. Other members of his party will include A. J. Lowther, his secretary, H. J. Evans of Scotland Yard, and a valet.

had filed out. I would like to confer with my associates for a day to be asked.

"You may have the necessary time," Judge McLeizian replied. "Gaiagan indicated it will be several days before he is ready to file his motion. Meantime, both defendants were continued in $5,000 bail."

Fox Testifies

Davis, 74, is accused of receiving $27,500 in unsecured loans from Fox in 1936 when the ex-movie magnate's bankruptcy cases were before the circuit court. Fox, who has pleaded as a government witness to landing $12,500 personally to Davis and transferring $15,000 to the jurist through Kaufman.

The part played in the trial by circumstantial evidence was the jurors who caused five of the jurors to hold out for acquittal according to Edward Slocum, negro music teacher and spokesman for the group.

"We felt that the government had presented nothing but circumstantial evidence," he explained. "We agreed that we never could convict on such evidence alone." Slocum identified those who voted for acquittal as himself, Harry McDougall, foreman of the jury, and the three women members.

In a world already short of food, the government has thought of everything except what a few months of drought can do.

Mr. President, you couldn't have saved the country in 1933 if you had waited for public opinion to direct you.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

GO EASY IN PRE-SCHOOL TEACHING

Thousands of conscientious mothers are wondering what their child should be taught before entering school.

In the sense of formal teaching, as of reading, spelling and arithmetic, the child had better have no teaching at all before he enters the first grade.

It might, however, do no harm, even do some good, if he learned a few of the letters of the alphabet. Also, he might learn to print a few of them. He might also learn to recognize, at play, some of the number symbols from 1 to 10, to count that far and to get the meaning of numbers. Play with domino blocks is useful to this end. Play with Finch cards is helpful to get acquainted with the names and figures and to learn their relative order values.

Names of Objects
Some parents had better not bother about these matters at all, because they may grow too eager, press the child too far and expect too much of him, and cause him to hate these things before he enters school.

Because the young child's eyes are poorly coordinated, it is not wise to teach him to read before he enters the first grade. Not what he can do, but what it is well for him to do, is a good rule. If, to make you happy, you must do something toward his reading, make a few large placards with words printed boldly on them, one to each card, as the name of a familiar object about the home, attaching each card to the appropriate object. Then the child at play can easily learn a few such words.

Cultivate Concentration
About the best thing you can do for him is to read to him for about 15 minutes once or twice a day. There is no better way to cultivate good habits of listening attentively and good concentration habits. Don't ask him to say back the rhymes or tell the story.

He needs to have much experience at play with numerous other children about his age, so he can learn to fight his own battles and settle his own quarrels and be happy out of the sight of his mother.

He needs to have learned self-reliance—to feed himself, dress himself and bring himself in from play on a regular signal.

He specially needs to have learned the meaning of NO, for safety, regards for the rights of others and respect for authority.

PURPOSE

If I am at the place when rises
And am the one who hears, another call Mine is the glory of the useful deed
In that brief moment I am first of all!

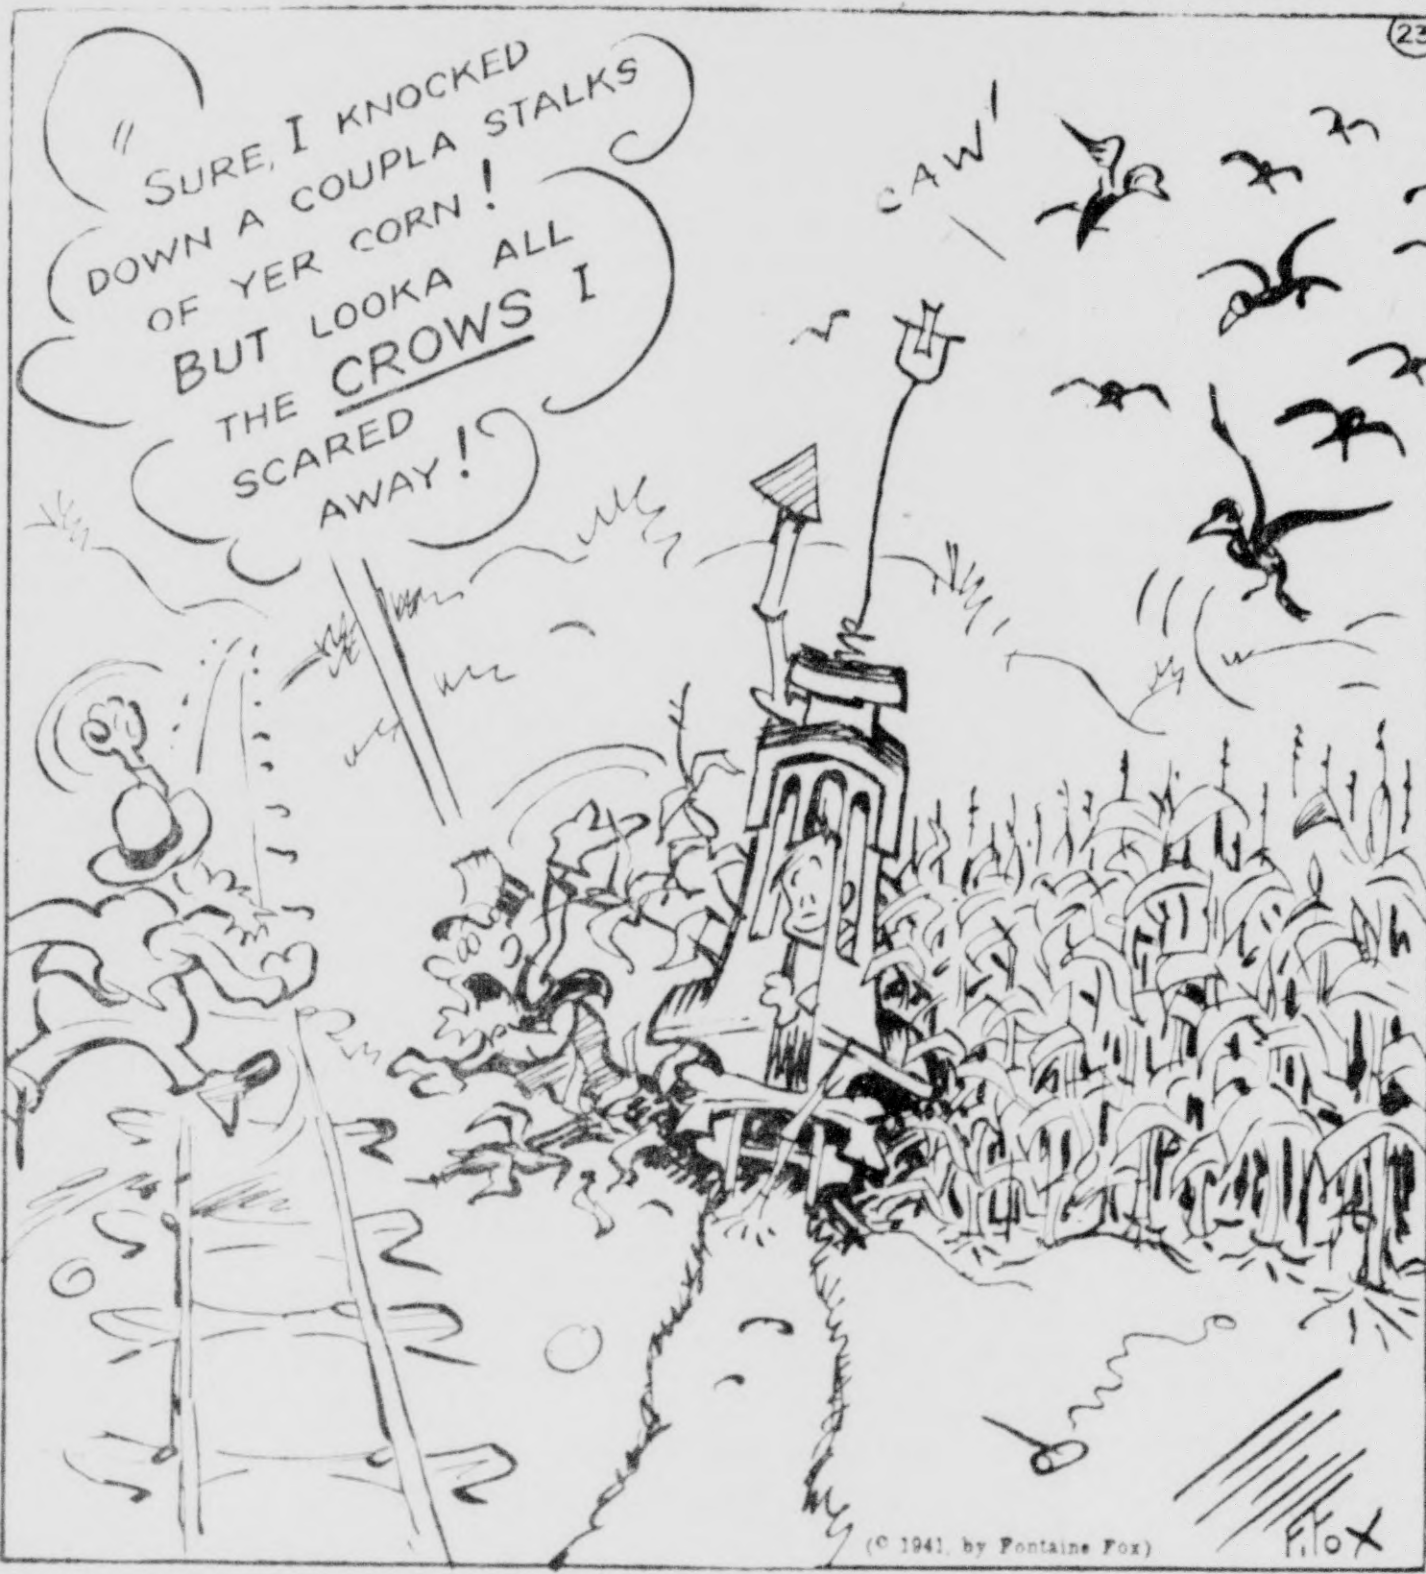

If it be mine to stretch the helping hand,
To friend the helpless in a moment grim,
Or all the millions in our peopled land,
Who prays to God, I answer it for Him.

We cannot know God's purpose or his plan,
But now and then in times of dreadful fear
It happens we can help our fellow man,
And doing that our birth has reason here.

WHAT PRICE GLORY
So long as soldier stories are in vogue, we will tell one on a column. The civilian who wasn't quite used to distinguishing officers' rank by their insignia, was conversing with a colonel. Several times he called him captain, then, as if not sure, he asked, "You are a captain aren't you?"

"Well," said the colonel, slightly amused, "I am not any more, although I once was."

"That's too bad," consoled the civilian, "drink, I suppose."

DOWN TO EARTH

I dreamed of a lover rich and bold
With a wealth of wavy hair
And a heart so light
He would always smile
And never know a care.

I dreamed of a lover rich and bold
To sweep me off my feet.
To thrill my heart with tender love
And words of honey-sweet.

Then I married a fellow Who's short and light
With hair a little thin
And the nearest he ever comes to a smile
Is a sort of a silly grin.

And don't make love so well

As a husband—I think he's swell!

Did you ever spend a day picking gooseberries? That used to be a boy's job when mother was putting up everything she could find to make canned stuff for the winter. But after the summer canning it was nice to look at the rows upon rows of canned stuff put away in the who said "Mother was the one who had an abundance of canned fruits and vegetables. Father paid little or no attention to what she was doing. He just knew that mother would do it."

Why Keep A Watchful Eye On Dakar
Only Short Hop To South America
Nazies Have Eyes On Latin America

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 — Although Dakar isn't in Latin America, it's about as important to the western hemisphere as if it were on our side of the Atlantic, so strategists are saying, not only in Washington but in the capitals of most of our southern neighbors. Diplomats and visiting military men in this country from the Latin new world's direction, stress the situation emphatically. Dakar, they point out, is a spot on the map that it behooves Uncle Sam to keep a sharp eye on, with a view to his own good, and to their own republic's good also—the latter consideration perhaps being what they have in mind principally.

Well, Uncle Samuel has his binoculars turned Dakarward, all right. Presumably it was one of the places President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill discussed at their recent ocean conference. I don't think the average Yankee ever heard of Dakar until after the present war started, but the South American east coast knew all about it because it's so near to that waterfront. Today we North Americans know about it, too, it's figured so much, at least by name, in the news lately.

However, maybe a few words concerning it wouldn't be malapropos for the benefit of the few readers who, possibly, haven't bothered to locate it on their atlases.

It's a port on French colonial soil in Africa, but where the Dark Continent bulges farthest to the westward into the Atlantic. In the western hemisphere and considerably south, the South American continent bulges to the eastward. At its extreme bulge is the Brazilian port of Pernambuco, likewise called Recife.

It's a comparatively short diagonal hop from Dakar to Pernambuco—about as far as from New York to Omaha.

By Plane And Parachute

Now, it's no news that the Nazis want to horn into Latin America. Not having much sea stretch, they need a narrow stretch of ocean to cross, to land 'em there. Dakar-Pernambuco is it. It could even be done by plane and parachute. And if Herr Hitler gets the French navy, he might be able to make himself pretty troublesome on the watery surface of the hotter ocean. True, we and the British have navies of our own, but they're tolerably busy elsewhere.

Adolf's few submarines and raiders, French fleet, parachutists and all unquestionably couldn't put over a large scale invasion of South America at the present writing.

There's a pretty evident scheme, though, to precede the SMALL-scale invasion by stirring up an epidemic of Latin-American revolutions, getting Quisling governments into power to welcome his parachutists. The existing Latin-American governments, naturally, don't fancy being revolved into the discard. Uncle Sam's delighted to observe that they're taking drastic

NO GREAT ALARM.

Taking our cue from a super-guardian of freedom in the United States we are pleased to announce a fair, satisfactory condition of civil liberties in our midst. The American Civil Liberties Union so describes the situation in its annual report. To date, then, and despite forebodings in certain quarters we are not immediately threatened with a loss of our democracy because of defense and whatever else may be impending.

In recent years the Civil Liberties Union has yielded to none among the "viewers with alarm" at the probability of such a loss. Everything was grist that came to its mill. It was the champion of individual or minority rights or what have you, literally smelling from afar any semblance of oppression and shouting at the thought of it.

It is with this background that we may approach the Union's statement that in the last twelve months there have been "remarkably few casualties" in the Civil Liberties arena. Not that everything is serene, because field scouts of the Union all have "the sense of a general tightening and a great apprehension." Presumably this would be related to the future of civil liberties. There is no specific reference to concern over the rights of labor and the expanding functions of the FBI.

Most people do not share this apprehension and we cannot feel the Civil Liberties Union is deeply alarmed, because it goes on to say that in the appellate courts' decisions were almost wholly favorable to civil liberties and to speak with particular gratification of the Supreme Court record.

But it may be assumed the Union will remain on guard through hell and high water, and we trust with due regard to the general run of citizens whose civil liberties are often interfered with by these very minority groups with which the league seems especially concerned.

A Hundred Billion?

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. LAST week some ingenious gentleman in the Treasury Department figured out that the national debt, which that day had passed the fifty-billion mark, is increasing at the rate of $277.50 a second. This interesting piece of information lends substance, if any were needed, to the forecast that before our defense expenditures are over we will have a debt of well over a hundred billion.

THIS forecast is further confirmed by disclosure of the President, following his sea meeting with Mr. Churchill and Lord Beaverbrook, that another lend-lease appropriation will be asked—some $5 billion, as much as eight billion more. Whether it is seven, eight or ten billions makes little difference. We are needed toward that hundred-billion debt, and there is nothing to stop us. Every person even relatively informed about the Federal finances knows that these are out of control and that the time has come when a billion more or billion less apparently makes no difference.

THE question naturally arises as to what does a nation do with a hundred billion-dollar debt. How can it be handled? Or can it be handled? No one in the Government wants these questions truthfully answered. No one in the Government, for that matter, knows the answers. No one in the Government is facing the facts or telling the truth about the situation. No one in the Government is thinking clearly about them. Unofficial economists and financiers think about them but are pretty cloudy in their conclusions.

UPON some things, however, they are agreed. For example, they agree that no such debt can ever be paid. So far as that is concerned, it might just as well be two hundred or three hundred billion as one hundred. It can't be paid; it can't be materially reduced, and it can't be carried indefinitely. The burden of the carrying charges will be so great that confiscatory taxes will become fixed and a plateau of inflated high prices essential. Those who hold that view agree that neither the confiscatory taxes nor the inflated prices can be sustained indefinitely. Inevitably a collapse is sure to occur. There are some who talk about "gradual repudiation," others insist that the only answer is in further devaluation of the dollar—cheaper money.

STILL others argue that repudiation and inflation amount to the same thing in the end, that repudiation is not without precedent; that it is a pretty painful proceeding but that there is no way to escape it. Every thoughtful man must know that some such thing is ahead of us. He

Newly Organized Group To Sing At Morning Service In Congregational Church

On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the newly organized children's chorus will be heard at the First Congregational church, East Reynolds street. This group of children is under the direction of the Misses Esther Gibbons and Louise Davies. They have been drilling to take part in the Gynmnia Gym to be held in the Cathedral here on August 31. They will appear on the stage that day as a part of the trained chorus of 200 voices which will sing special numbers during the two sessions.

It is anticipated that a large crowd will hear these children in their program of song and speech next Sunday morning. At 5 o'clock over the local radio station, WKST, they will be heard in conjunction with the senior choir.

The song festival choir will rehearse at 2:30 o'clock on the Cathedral stage to prepare for the song festival on the following Sunday.

must know, too, that the reason that for eight years those in charge of the Federal finances, casting aside every prudent counsel and disregarding the teachings of experience, have spent the people's money with unparalleled lavishness and total lack of responsibility. The result is that, faced now with the necessity of spending billions for defense, we have a tottering financial structure and are faced with an appalling prospect.

THE Washington habit is to avoid looking at the prospect or even speaking about it. But such avoidance does not alter the facts. The men in Congress who have fought for economy in the past fight no longer. It seems too futile. Anesthetized by governmental subsidies and drugged with Administration demagoguery, the people have permitted governmental costs to be expanded without protest by men lost to all sense of proportion or reason. It would be a miracle now if public sentiment could be galvanized into the sort of action necessary to force the huge reductions essential for the recovery of our national equilibrium.

Of course, that miracle is possible, but it is not likely. At any rate, this business of thinking that somehow or some way the sort of debt and the sort of expenditures which are ahead of us can be handled safely should be discontinued. It is worse than foolish to think that, and it is evincingly untrue. Take a look at the picture as it exists today—and then argue about ability safely to handle the situation, if you can. The following table shows total Federal appropriations and authorizations for the two fiscal years 1941 and 1942—a total of $67,539,865,510. The compilation was made by Mr. Lawrence Sullivan, Washington economist, and includes all Presidential recommendations before Congress as of August 1, 1941.

THERE are more now—and still more to come. But what difference does it make? The essentials of the picture will not change.

NISULA-KOCH EVENT TAKES PLACE TODAY

Quietly celebrated, was the wedding which took place at 10:30 o'clock this morning, uniting in marriage Miss Dorothy Nisula, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Nisula, of 727 Oak street and Michael Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Koch of 427 Galbreath avenue, the ceremony being performed in the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The vows were exchanged in the presence of immediate families of the young couple, with Rev. Paul Tarcy pastor of the First Lutheran Baptist church, officiating using the impressive single ring service. The rooms were beautifully decorated with bouquets of flowers being placed in every nook and corner, adding to the colorful setting.

For her marriage, the bride chose a smartly tailored street length gown of sheer teal blue crepe, with matching accessories, and complemented with a shoulder corsage of yellow roses. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kass, were their only attendants. She was attired in a midnight blue street length, simply styled, and harmonizing accompaniments.

The couple left later in the day on a motor trip to Niagara Falls and other places of interest, and upon returning here in a few days, will be "at home" to friends at the residence of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Koch, employed at the Shenango Pottery, is a graduate of New Castle High school. Mrs. Koch, who also attended the local high school, is connected with the local Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation.

On August 31, a reception for their many friends, will be held at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Frank Kosola on Lutton street.

The first colony in Georgia was founded by James Oglethorpe.

Navy Means Business Walter Kiernan Finds

Caps Taken Off Anti-Air Craft Shells—War Conditions Prevail Aboard Ship

(Editor's Note: The following is the second of three stories by Walter Kiernan, International News Service staff correspondent, on the activities of the U. S. fleet guarding Atlantic sea lanes.)

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN THE ATLANTIC, Aug. 9 (delayed)—Uncle Sam's navy means business. That's the warning which can be served today on any unfriendly navy command which has chosen not to interpret the old gentleman's political and economic moves.

Time was when the ammunition magazines on navy destroyers carried caps on their anti-aircraft shells. They don't any more.

The caps were taken off the third day of the fleet with which I am "touring" the Atlantic set to sea. It took us two days to assemble our unit from various eastern ports. We more or less idled along during these two days. Then we got down to business.

Ready to Go

First, all the anti-aircraft ammunition was taken out of its cabinets, inspected, safety caps removed and fuses set for various explosion distances. Then depth charges, the Y-gun which tosses them over the sides and the pinion rack which allows them to roll off the stern were given a going over.

Test rounds of machine gun ammunition were tried out and found satisfactory, as were the guns.

The radio was shut off, single lights arranged for the battle circuit—portholes were long ago plugged up with shell-resisting steel—and we were ready for whatever the Atlantic might turn up in the way of trouble.

There have been brief periods when it looked as though that trouble might be at hand—submarines detected not very far away, destroyed not immediately identified—but it didn't break.

Never Relax

That does not mean that vigilance ever is relaxed. Day and night the bridge-eyes and ears of the ship—listeners and watches—day and night, guns are manned. Day—and sometimes night—gunners lovingly tinker with their machinery, adjust sights, stick another smear of grease on a part which must work the first time and smoothly if ever called on.

At sea this unit never pauses. Fuel? Pull up beside a ship with plenty to spare, run alongside while both are doing eight knots an hour, shoot a line aboard and pull the feed hose over. Try filling your gas tank from a tank truck on a rocky road with soft shoulders in a rainstorm while you both travel at nine miles an hour and you'll get the idea.

Supplies? Get 'em the same way if you run short. These boys even sling personnel from ship to ship in a bosun's chair while bounding over the briny.

Signal Lights

Communication is by blinker light and semaphore and enough messages are handled by the signal men on any ship to give any telegraph office a good rating with its headquarters.

Action, speed is the essence of efficiency in this unit. Perhaps the navy knew it all the time. Perhaps it has learned its lesson from the power which taught the world what modern warfare is.

The United States navy, if this unit is a prime example, can fight that kind of war if ever called upon. It has dash and daring, but more than that it has cold, hard efficiency which sweeps softie methods aside and presses on to the accomplishment of the task at hand, and even if somebody's chow is delayed or their hands get redder than usual.

When the senior command of this unit orders a thing done, it is done and the flags read "well done" for all the unit to see. Let someone slip, be he skipper or third class seaman, and the flags read "not well done."

That also is for all the unit to read and reflect on and gear up its efficiency another notch.

Recovers From Automobile Collision In East—Daughter
Still In Hospital

Mrs. Clarence Miller, of Leisure avenue, who with her daughter Mildred, were badly injured in an automobile accident at Paoli, Pa., as they were enroute to Roosevelt, Long Island, and eastern points, has recovered enough to be brought to her home here from the West Chester, Pa. hospital, where she has been confined for the past seven weeks. She must still remain in bed here, but is gradually improving.

Miss Mildred Miller, who suffered a fractured skull, will be forced to remain in the West Chester hospital for some little time yet, it is reported.

Mrs. Miller was accompanied home by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Wagner, of North Mercer street, and her children, Marilyn and Joe Wagner, Jr., who have been spending the summer with their uncle, Joseph D. Miller, of Roosevelt, Long Island, whence they were traveling when the accident occurred. The two grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Miller escaped without injury.

Farewell Sermon By Rev. Homer Price

REV. HOMER PRICE

At the United Brethren church, North Crawford avenue, Sunday evening, at 7:45, Rev. Homer Price, the pastor, will deliver his farewell sermon to the congregation.

Rev. Price organized this church, February 1, 1940, which was located at that time on East Brook street.

The present church building, on North Crawford avenue, was purchased in April, 1940, and dedication services were held June 3 of that year.

The church has a membership of 71 and an average attendance in the Sunday school of 92. Over half of the church's indebtedness has been paid off.

Since Rev. Price has come on this field, the former Valley Way Mission and Bethel Tabernacle, of Stanton avenue, have been taken into the United Brethren church organization.

The Sandusky conference of the United Brethren church has chosen Rev. Price as church extension evangelist, and he will enter upon his new work early in September.

That also is for all the unit to read and reflect on and gear up its efficiency another notch.

has asked it to indicate, first, what appropriate collective bargaining units it represents, and second, what is its membership in each such bargaining unit.

"So far, the C. I. O. has not answered either question, merely showing it has so many applications for membership indiscriminately. As the C. I. O. knows, its right to bargain under existing law rests upon its possessing a majority in each appropriate bargaining unit and not upon it having a large number of members."

"The statement that the company has refused to bargain is further in error by reason of the fact that an A. F. L. union claims to represent the very people whose membership is claimed by the C. I. O."

Company bargaining with either union under these circumstances, he said, is "unwise and probably unlawful."

Union spokesmen indicated the strike would affect power in Blair, Huntingdon, Bedford, Millin, Franklin, Perry, Cumberland, Cambria, Juniata and Indiana counties.

Claim Agreement

The union claimed that the company had agreed to recognize a majority of signed members and permit the utility to verify them.

The company, union spokesmen said, now knows its members. The C. I. O. opposed the company suggestion for a representation proceeding before the National Labor Relations board, on the grounds this would mean an extended delay.

Concerning an N. L. R. B. election, Werner said:

"The company has petitioned the N. L. R. B. to proceed to do and until the question is thus settled there can be no refusal to bargain with either one of the rival unions."

BERLIN ANNOUNCES

ians most of them untrained and many unarmed.

During the past week, it was announced, encircled cavalry divisions on the central front were slashed to pieces, with more than 4,000 Reds killed and 3,150 captured.

Large quantities of war materials were taken in this action, including 1,730 horses, 104 guns of all calibers, 136 machine guns and 45 trench mortars.

Meanwhile, the German sweep through the southern Ukraine continues to gain momentum. It was announced that all the rich lands west of the Dnieper now are in German hands.

On the other sections of the front, the Germans have been fighting to establish a uniform line and to mop up Soviet guerrillas.

Straighten Line

German military authorities said the line now has been straightened out all the way from Lake Ilmen on the Leningrad front to the Black Sea, with the exception of some forward Nazi bulges down through Gornel and along the Dnieper River.

Zero hour for the next big German offensive remains a closely guarded secret, but the approach of autumn with the rigors of campaigning in the Russian winter indicated that the German military steam roller will not coast along and give the Russians a chance to rally anywhere.

Key cities of Leningrad and Odessa were described by the Nazis as "within reach" already, while strong and especially organized and equipped battalions were coming over the vast conquered areas in gigantic man-hunts for the numerous "lost" Soviet battalions isolated or left behind during the Soviet armies' retreats.

For instance, it was revealed, thousands of still well-equipped Russians are hanging on in the fastness of the Pripiet marshes, where they are attacking the German rear.

FOOTHOLD VANISH

German army spokesmen said the last Soviet footholds west of the Dnieper are vanishing rapidly under Nazi punishment. Also they said the merger of Nazi forces east and west of lake Peipus in the Narva region presages early liquidation of Red troops in Estonia, leaving the whole gulf of Finland in German hands with the exception of isolated strongholds at Hangoe, Nagoe, and Oesli.

The blows which the Germans say have been dealt to Marshal Budenny's army of the south are expected to be resumed in the near future against Marshal Timoshenko's forces in the center.

A "dangerous salient" according to the Germans, already is spreading to the southeast from Smolensk to the Rostov region, 80 miles below Smolensk. There the Nazis were said once more to be stretching the steel jaws of gigantic pincers along the Desna River, forming another iron ring based on Smolensk in the north and Gornel in the south, with Rostov as the eastern point.

Timoshenko Next

Predictions among German military authorities were that sooner or later Timoshenko must face the brunt of a central blitz as soon as the Nazis clean up in the south and cross the lower and upper Dnieper.

In the meantime Marshal Voroshilov's turn seems to have come in the north. The magnitude of fighting on the Leningrad front is on the increase, and the Germans are convinced that even the massive ring of fortifications around the former Czarist capital will not be able to stem the Nazi advance.

Latest reports from the northern front said that bitter Russian counter-attacks in defense of Leningrad have proved futile.

Marshal Voroshilov's manifesto calling on the citizens of Leningrad to defend their city to the last gave the Germans grounds for assumption that Soviet leadership in the north is apprehensive and desperate.

CONCERT BAND IS INDEPENDENT GROUP

It was erroneously stated in Friday evening's paper that the New Castle Concert band, which gave a concert at the New Castle Fair, was composed of members of the Legion Junior band.

Manager George Moore states that his organization is an independent band, and is not affiliated with the American Legion Junior band.

Death To Reds New Nazi Order

Communists And Anarchists In France To Be Dealt With Severely

(International News Service)
VICHY, Aug. 23.—Quick action against "Communists and anarchists," often involving the death penalty without appeal, was ordered today by the government of unoccupied France.

The measure was one of a new series of repressive steps against allegedly subversive groups in both the occupied and unoccupied zones.

The journal official today published a law specifying that all Communist and anarchist activities henceforth are to be submitted to special quick-acting tribunals. Penalties include imprisonment with hard labor in addition to death sentences.

The latter, the law said, are to be carried out immediately after sentence is passed, with no chance of appeal.

Meanwhile walls in Paris were pasted with ominous notices issued by German authorities warning that vengeance will be wrought against the estimated 150,000 prisoners of the Germans if any more anti-Nazi violence occurs.

"A member of the German army has been murdered in Paris," the notices said.

"From now on, all Frenchmen under arrest are to be considered as hostages."

"If any new criminal attempts are made, a number of hostages, proportionate to the gravity of the offenses, will be shot."

According to information in Vichy the slain German was either a major or colonel.

He was said to have been stabbed at the entrance to the Barbes Station of the Metro (subway). Immediately after the murder, some 6,000 persons, mostly Jews, were rounded up in the 11th arrondissement of Paris and put to work in a concentration camp near Le Bourget air field.

Auto Gets Frisky
Does Somersault

Arthur Gibbons, Ellwood City, R. D. 2, was involved in an auto wreck at 1:50 a. m. today and despite a wild flight of his auto in which several cars were struck, poles downed, hedges rammed and a double somersault of his car he escaped with shoulder bruises, according to the State Motor police.

Gibbons recently was discharged from a hospital following an operation. He was driving near Park Gate on the Ellwood City-Koppel road when something went wrong. He told police he did not know what caused the car to run off the left side of the road.

His car struck another car then downed a telephone pole. It then travelled through a four foot ditch and knocked down some fence posts then ran into a hedge fence then travelled across a flower bed. It somersaulted twice then plunged against another car and wound up its wild flight two feet from a dwelling.

In all the car travelled 200 feet, police reported.

Oh, unhappy Tillie Cort—on her nose there was a wart.

Warts are not serious and do not affect the general health.

They do not lead to cancer as many fear.

They are not caused by toads as children often believe.

A wart is an infection caused by a virus entering the skin.

Warts usually appear on hands, feet, scalp, knees, face or neck.

They develop at any age, generally in the 16 to 20 age group.

Ordinarily, warts disappear within three years.

Some warts have been known to last for 28 years.

Folklore remedies for the removal of warts are useless.

Warts often cause embarrassment to those who have them.

A specialist in diseases of the skin can aid in removing them.

Maybe Hitler is crazy; but the average husband, fed nothing but vegetables, would seem twice as mad.

Camp Lake, the oldest of the Salvation Army camps, is operated for the poor of Chicago and the youth of the Central Territory. This camp was secured in 1904 by the Chicago Salvation Army Advisory Board, the first established in the United States—and has gradually increased its usefulness until today it extends many distinct varieties of service during the months of June and August.

This large camp covers eighty acres of woods and open fields, and accommodates between 550 and 600 individuals.

There are other Salvation Army camps rendering service with similar accommodations; for instance, the Wonderland Camp at Sharon, Mass., for Boston and vicinity, and Star Lake Camp, of 300 acres, at Butler, N. J., operated for New York City and various district cities.

Each camp is staffed by an efficient program director, a young man possessing special training and a good Christian experience, and a corps of efficient counselors who maintain a well-balanced daily schedule of activities.

High Gridders Leave Monday For Muddy Creek

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh Selects 35 Young Men To Make Camp Trip

HARD WORKOUTS ARE JUST AHEAD

Looking ahead to Friday night, Sept. 5, under the lights at Taggart stadium, the New Castle high football squad of 35 young hopefuls will depart from the stadium by bus at eight o'clock on Monday morning for Muddy Creek Falls on a week's excursion.

Coch Phil Bridenbaugh met with the candidates last night at senior high and gave them their final instructions about going to camp and what was expected of them after they get to camp. The young candidates pledged themselves to do their level best to get in shape for the 1941 season. Dr. Newman, the school doctor, examined every boy last night and found them in perfect physical condition.

Only Four Regulars

New Castle faces a tough schedule this year, with only four varsity starters from last season: Robert E. Lee, Norman Peters, Norm Scarazzo and Tommy Parou. The first named is a backfield man, the last three linemen. From the reserves last year will be: Genkinger, Masters, Gunn, Ross, Stewart, Zubkowski, Young, Probst, Harold Burris and Malley.

The above mentioned boys will make the camp trip, along with the following new recruits: Ryan, Currie, Apecelli, Sisco, Roussos, Doster, Alexander, Humphrey, Gribble, Sam Filippo, Joseph, DeMarco, Lindsey, Hammond, Beynon, Guinagah, Newman, Francis, Nickum, Deegan, Tedesco, McKee, Morris, Caldwell, Morella, DeGuido.

All boys have been cautioned to be at the stadium at or before eight o'clock and to not miss the bus to camp.

Johnson Bronze Golfers Tied

The Johnson Bronze Golf league leadership is all tied up today with the Hazards captained by Nick Mille and the Mashies with 1½ points apiece. The league met at the Castle Hills course last night and enjoyed a round of matches.

Medalist last night was Stan Bukowski with a scintillating 37, while other low cards were as follows: Stan Kish 40, Rod Pezzone 40, Hoover 41, Nick Mille 41, Joe "Sensation" Fisher 42. The weekly golf ball was won by Nicholson with a 46-14-32 low net card.

Results Last Night
Hazards 2½; Mashies 2½.
Brassie 4½; Pars 1½.
Birdies 4; Eagles 1.
Standing of the league: Hazards 7½; Mashies 7½; Birdies 7; Brassies 6½; Eagles 1; Pars ½.

HILLSVILLE WINS
Hillsville defeated Ellwood City at Ellwood City yesterday. The score was eight to five. No box score was received here. This betters Hillsville standing in the Lawrence league.

BESSEMER BOWS TO WAMPUM, 3-2

Cellar Champs Take "Fall" Out Of Lawrence Loop Champs

Apparently nettled because they are the cellar champs, Wampum set out Friday evening to defeat Bessemer, Lawrence County loop champs and executed the feat, three to two. However, Bessemer yet heads the circuit. Herbert was the victor in a duel with Stanley.

The cellar occupants got runs in the second, third and fourth while Bessemer's two scores came in the fourth frame.

Anderson and Stanley pounded out triples while Frank and Ippolito doubled.

Frank in addition to getting a pair of hits executed a double play unassisted, likewise W. Anderson. The box score:

	W	L	Pct.
Wampum	3	2	.600
Bessemer	2	3	.400

Score by innings:
Bessemer, 000 200—2 7
Wampum, 011 10x—3 9 0

Three base hits, Anderson, Stanley. Two base hits, Frank, Ippolito. Runs batted in, Stanley, Frank, Wardman, Ippolito, Pelto. Double plays, Frank (unassisted); W. Anderson (unassisted). NEW YORK—George Pace Cleveland 127 pound whirlwind, dethroned Danny London, New York in an eight round scrap, Friday night.

Bill Nicholson is the Cubs' best hitter since Hack Wilson blasted 56 in 1930.

It's a fact that—Since Bernie Bierman took over the coaching reigns at Minnesota in 1932, the Gophers have lost only three home football games. . . . Joe Oringo, St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, played 17 innings of a double-header before he realized that the big toe on his left foot was broken! . . . Lefty Gomez was unable to pitch recently because he suffered a stiff neck craning his neck to watch airplanes flying over Yankee stadium!

The New York Yankees have swept 19 out of 14 doubleheaders so far this season. . . . Bill Lohman wouldn't pitch on Sunday if he had any say in the matter, and not because of religious reasons. Five of Lohman's defeats have come on Sundays! . . . Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees played in 42 consecutive games before he fanned the ozone.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Saturday sports short-cuts:

Smed Pyle, the gauging lad who toed the rubber for New Castle in the free baseball school tourney, deserves the plaudits of fandom. When Phil Colella, who had been selected to twirl, reported with a scolding frown on his pitching finger, Glenn Wright and Al Kreuz, instructors, immediately thought about the likeable Pyle.

Despite the fact that he had toiled nine innings Sunday in a City league fracas, Pyle accepted the difficult assignment, disregarding the fact that his arm was not up to par and that the flipper is made of human flesh and needs rest. This little back stage episode may tend to ease Pyle's pain, which needs a soothing application.

Wonder what Butler High will do for a football team this season? To hear some of the Soapbushers' followers tell it, the neighboring city is really up against it. While we needed a few Butler fans proceeded to unwind one of those sad tales that almost had us in tears. You see, Butler plays New Castle here on Friday, September 12. We're supposed to peddle the yarn, I guess, to the local football front.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Philadelphia Phillies' sad plight in National League cellar seems destined to continue—at least for another season. . . . Ted Williams maintaining his 400 plus batting pace, earned the title of "man of the week in sports."

National champions Ted Schroeder and Jack Kramer meet Bobby Riggs and Gene Mako, while Wayne Sabin and Gardner Mulloy tangle with Don McNeill and Frank Parker in the semi-finals of the national doubles tennis championships today at Brookline, Mass. . . . Whirlaway heavy favorite to capture $45,000 first money today in thirty-first American derby at Washington Park. . . . Mary Agness Wall, of Menominee, Mich., and Mrs. Russell Mann, of Omaha, meet today in final of women's western closed golf championship at Chicago.

The cellar occupants got runs in the second, third and fourth while Bessemer's two scores came in the fourth frame.

Anderson and Stanley pounded out triples while Frank and Ippolito doubled.

Frank in addition to getting a pair of hits executed a double play unassisted, likewise W. Anderson. The box score:

Bessemer To Meet Hillville

Big Crowd Anticipated When Diamond Rivals Clash Monday

Bessemer and Hillville will clash at 5:45 p. m. Monday at Hillville. Because of the intense interest between the teams, a big crowd is apt to turn out for the diamond fracas. The fact that Manager James Martin claimed that Sweeney had no legal right to play in a recent game has fired the Hillville fans, and, of course, this claim will be aired here Thursday.

Likelihood exists that Ammons may be sent back to the mound. He turned back Hardesty for the first Hillville victory over Hardesty this season. This didn't please Bessemer too much, so there'll be lots of rivalry on tap when the umpires start the game Monday. Many fans from New Castle are preparing to drink in the sight.

The other game will find Wampum, cellar champions opposed to the third-place Ellwood Cityans. Wampum took some of the "hop" out of Bessemer yesterday and would like to do the same to Ellwood City. They're not proud of their league position and hope before the season goes far to get out of the lower berth and go up the ladder.

Joe Frigone, veteran of the local sandlots, held the Elder A. C. to four hits last night at Marshall field to more firmly entrench the Moose boys in first place in the city league. The score was 6 to 2 in a five-inning affair.

Dory Gunnet did the Elder hurling and was given ragged support in the first inning with the lodge-men shoving over five runs to practically sew-up the ball game. Frigone bore down and did not allow the Elders a hit for three innings.

Mike Mash was the feature batter with a triple and double, while Hahn had a double also for the Moose and Tommy Strausbaugh banged out a long triple for the Elders.

The Elders big inning was the fourth when they tallied their two runs.

Ryantown will play the Elders Sunday at Marshall field, with the Moose going to Clifton Flats to battle the Slovaks.

Week End Finds Market Slow And Narrow Owing To Uncertainties Abroad

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The stock market put in another slow and narrow performance today, with the week-end adding to the restraining influence of the uncertainties abroad.

A number of leaders were late in opening, indicating the extent of the apathy, and Chrysler did not appear until 11:14.

A few issues moved relatively widely. Peoples Gas Light gained nearly 2 points to a new high. Eastman Kodak and Fajardo Sugar were up a point each.

Steel shares, under some pressure recently, were firmer but gains were unimportant.

Motors steadied after yesterday's decline on the production cut decision. Chrysler was up a moderate fraction.

American Telephone, strong yesterday, was up a fraction more. Standard of N. J. was higher.

Elsewhere narrow and irregular price movements prevailed, as in electrical equipments, coppers, chemicals, aviation, mail orders, rails and utilities.

Curb stocks continued dull in a narrow range. A handful of high-priced issues showed gains. These included Empire Gas & Fuel issues which jumped 2 to 3 points and Puller Co., up 3 points. Trading was extremely slow in the bond market with U. S. Treasuries quiet and interest in speculative bonds at a low ebb.

Realistic War Maneuvers Held

Gas Masks Issued To Troops And Observers Alike, Dive Bombers Active

(International News Service) PRESCOTT, Ark., Aug. 23.—The issuance of gas masks to troops and observers alike and incessant dive-bombing by planes of the Eighth Bombardment Squadron created a realistic war atmosphere today in the second army's Arkansas maneuvers.

For four days, with few let-ups, the planes have roared all along the far-flung battle lines, theoretically strafing troops, seeking out command posts and in every way giving the soldiers a taste of what modern war can be.

Dive Into Ditches
Although the bombing and strafing was just make-believe, there was nothing make-believe in the manner in which the soldiers were forced to dive time and again into ditches for cover.

The continued attacks from the air were ordered by Maj. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, Jr., Seventh Corps commander, to give the men practice in learning to take cover and to protect themselves from air attack without being deterred in the carrying out of their duties.

Issuance of the gas masks, which were given also to reporters, was by order of Col. Adelino Gibson, second army chemical warfare officer, who said:

"Everyone, high ranking officers in command posts and other rear installations, as well as the soldiers, is going to get practice in working with gas masks on. The reason is to accustom officers, soldiers and newsmen alike to the hazards of gas and to make them familiar with the masks while carrying out their duties."
